The advertisement for ZOO4 features a blue background. The word 'ZOO4' is written in large, white, bold letters. A cartoon monkey character is positioned to the right of the 'O's, appearing to be climbing or holding onto the letter '4'. Below the main text, there is a short description of the product and two buttons: 'Buy Now' and 'Download'.

Your ZOO Apps

Create any number of apps with unlimited content types. It's the ultimate Joomla Content Construction Kit.

Easy Navigation

Quickly access the item, category, frontpage, comments, tags or submission manager or the app configuration.

Item Manager

The main place to copy, edit, delete and publish items, create new ones and set the ordering and access level.

Item Priority

Besides the default ordering options you can prioritize selected items.

ZOO4 has seen its first major update in six years.

Zoo is a content creation kit (CCK) which allows items to be built in a predefined manner and displayed in a product template. This is great for sites where you have a lot of information about products or news article which needs to be broken into various components such as author, related items etc.

Zoo also has the ability to allow multiple categories for a single item and its own internal tagging system.

Coupled with the recent launch of Yootheme Pro 2, zoo items can now be used as dynamic content in the templates bringing in the ability to display items to a whole new level.

EDOCMAN v1.19.2 KEY FEATURES

(Latest version: 1.19.2, released on 20th October 2020)

Edocman is a categorised document repository that allows you to serve your clients and your staff with documents. With the use of access control levels, you can keep certain categories and documents private.

It allows you to show the size of documents, diversion and when they were created. We use this sort of tool extensively for some of the national Police sites that we build and maintain.
